

Sponsorship Opportunities

Raptor Research Foundation

Raptor Research Foundation (RRF) is devoted to research, public education, and conservation of birds of prey. The Foundation publishes The Journal of Raptor Research, the world's only peer-reviewed journal devoted exclusively to raptor biology. ## Local Committee Organizations

Under the leadership of the Tropical Audubon Society, the South Florida Audubon Society, the South Florida Conservation Network, and the Florida Ornithological Society have all come together to host this year's joint research conference. Each organization is dedicated to environmental education and conservation in Florida.

The Conference

The 2022 Raptor Research Foundation/Florida Ornithological Society conference will be held October 4-9, 2022 at the Embassy Suites in downtown Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The conference typically attracts ~300 attendees who present on the latest raptor research and data in an effort to share information and further conservation efforts. The conference also attracts ~100 students and budding biologists each year who participate in the Early Career Raptor Researchers workshops hosted by experts and lead biologists. The conference will consist of approximately 70 oral paper presentations, a poster session with approximately 40 poster displays, two social/networking events and a formal banquet, 4-5 Early Career Raptor Researchers workshops, and two full days of field trips to local birding and wildlife destinations. This year for the first time, the conference will be offered as a hybrid format, potentially attracting hundreds of virtual participants from around the world.

Why Sponsor?

Your donations will contribute to making this first in-person conference in three years accessible to as many participants as possible. South Florida is an incredible region for biodiversity, but it is also a popular tourist destination, especially at this time of year. Financial and in-kind donations are both welcome. Financial support will help to fund several aspects of the conference, such as assistive technologies for those with disabilities, shuttle services to field trip destinations, and the technology required to put on the presentations while simultaneously streaming to our virtual attendees. In-kind donations could also contribute to these aspects of the conference as well as food and beverages during coffee breaks and poster sessions. Your sponsorship will be advertised to hundreds of conference attendees in person at the hotel, in the program book, and on the conference webpage and may include registration for members of your organization to attend the conference.

Interested in Becoming a Sponsor?

Please see sponsorship levels on the next page and reach out to the conference planners at 2022conference@raptorresearchfoundation.org to express your interest.
